Preventing Abuse, Bullying and Harassment

Violence & Abuse Prevention
Canadian Red Cross

A transformative professional development workshop for those who work with and inspire youth

If you work with young people, this course is a must for understanding the impact of abuse, bullying and harassment on children and youth, the nature of the crime and your responsibility for protecting young people.

This course will help you understand:

- the definitions, indicators and effects of all types of abuse – emotional, physical, sexual and neglect
- the definitions and dynamics of bullying and harassment
- ways to proactively build safer relationships within your organization and the community for your staff and the youth
- how to handle child and youth disclosures of abuse, bullying and harassment, including legal reporting requirements
- risk management strategies to create a safer environment
