YOUR CONTRIBUTION CHANGES EVERYTHING

The Red Cross does here what is does throughout the world.

When we think of "humanitarian aid", we immediately think of "international aid". Despite the fact that the Red Cross does here, in Quebec, what is does throughout the world. "Following a number of experiences that involved providing aid abroad, namely in Haiti, Central America and Africa, I told myself that I should also help people here at home. A moment of personal awareness led me to give my name to the Red Cross", explains Marc Nolet, a 5-year volunteer in the Chibougamau-Chapais area.
